Course Description

This course is designed to assist undergraduates in adjusting to the academic life of the University. Through lectures, discussions, exercises, and out-of-class assignments, UK 101 helps students reach the student learning outcomes listed in this syllabus.

Student Learning Outcomes

As a result of UK 101, students will:

1. Identify and pursue avenues and activities to engage with the University of Kentucky community.
2. Describe and evaluate their new collegiate learning environment and how to utilize campus resources to aid academic success and personal growth.
3. Recognize personal and social issues (e.g., alcohol, health and wellness, financial wellness), articulate healthy behaviors, and identify strategies to address these issues.
4. Examine individual backgrounds and experiences and recognize the value of engaging in a diverse community.

Course Requirements

1. Class participation is critical to the success of students, and it adds to the success of the course. Participation includes attending and being prepared for class, involving yourself in class discussions and activities, assuming responsibility for your own learning, contributing to the learning of others, and participating in online discussions via Canvas.
2. Classroom decorum is important to a conducive learning environment. Being respectful of your classmates and instructors includes engaging in civil discourse, especially when we discuss topics that have a diversity of perspectives; silencing your cell phone; not texting; and other behaviors outlined in class.
3. Complete and submit assignments as directed (via Canvas, email, or hard copy—whichever instructor chooses) by designated dates and times.

There is not a final exam.

Attendance Policy

All Instructors are required to have a penalty for excessive unexcused absences. The University Senate rule below applies when a student accumulates excused absences equal to 20% of the course. Below is a strongly suggested policy, which can be adapted based on instructor preference.

Students are expected to attend ALL class sessions unless their absence is excused. Attending class is an important part of succeeding in any course, especially a discussion-based course like UK 101. Students will have their final grade deducted by 5% for each unexcused absence. Please see below for what constitutes an excused absence.

Excused Absences and Verification (University Senate Rule 5.2.4.2)

Students need to notify the professor of absences prior to class when possible. Senate Rule 5.2.4.2 defines the following as acceptable reasons for excused absences: (a) serious illness, (b) illness or death of family member, (c) University-related trips, (d) major religious holidays, and (e) other circumstances found to fit “reasonable cause for nonattendance” by the professor.

Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Two weeks prior to the absence is reasonable, but should not be given any later. Information regarding major religious holidays may be obtained through the Ombud (859-257-3737, Excused Absences).

Students are expected to withdraw from the class if more than 20% of the classes scheduled for the semester are missed (excused) per University policy.

PLEASE NOTE: For the purposes of this class, one-fifth (20% or more) of class = 4 classes.

Per Senate Rule 5.2.4.2, students missing any graded work due to an excused absence are responsible: for informing the Instructor of Record about their excused absence within one week following the period of the excused absence (except where prior notification is required); and for making up the missed work. The professor must give the student an opportunity to make up the work and/or the exams missed due to an excused absence, and shall do so, if feasible, during the semester in which the absence occurred.

Title IX Information

The University of Kentucky faculty are committed to supporting students and upholding the University's non-discrimination policy.

Discrimination is prohibited at UK. If you experience an incident of discrimination, we encourage you to report it to Institutional Equity & Equal Opportunity (IEEO) Office, 13 Main Building, 859-257-8927.

Acts of Sex- and Gender-Based Discrimination or Interpersonal Violence

If you experience an incident of sex- or gender-based discrimination or interpersonal violence, we encourage you to report it. While you may talk to a faculty member or TA, RA, UK 101 and 201 Peer Instructors, etc., understand that as a "Responsible Employee" of the University these individuals MUST report any acts of violence (including verbal bullying and sexual harassment) to the University's Title IX Coordinator in the IEEO Office (859-257-8927). If you would like to speak with someone who may be able to afford you confidentiality, the Violence Intervention and Prevention (VIP) program (Frazee Hall – Lower Level; VIP Center; 859-257-3574), the Counseling Center (106 Frazee Hall, UK Counseling Center; 859-257-8701), and University Health Service (830 S. Limestone; Student Health; 859-323-2778) are confidential resources on campus.

Academic Integrity

Per University policy, students shall not plagiarize, cheat, or falsify or misuse academic records. Students are expected to adhere to University policy on cheating and plagiarism in all courses. The minimum penalty for a first offense is a zero on the assignment on which the offense occurred. If the offense is considered severe or the student has other academic offenses on their record, more serious penalties, up to suspension from the University, may be imposed.

Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the University Bulletin and the Student Code of Conduct. Complete information can be found at the following website:

<http://www.uky.edu/Ombud>. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty. It is important that you review this information as all ideas borrowed from others need to be properly credited.

Senate Rule 6.3.1 (see Senate Rules for the current set of Senate Rules) states that all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about a question of plagiarism involving their work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission.

When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording, or content from another source without appropriate acknowledgment of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism.

Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else's work (including, but not limited to a published article, a book, a website, computer code, or a paper from a friend) without clear attribution. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work, which a student submits as their own, whoever that other person may be. Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student, and the student alone.

When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources or outside information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where, and how they have employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Making simple changes while leaving the organization, content, and phraseology intact is plagiaristic. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas, which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain.

Please note: Any assignment you turn in may be submitted to an electronic database to check for plagiarism.

Accommodations Due to Disability

If you have a documented disability that requires academic accommodations, please see me as soon as possible during scheduled office hours. In order to receive accommodations in this course, you must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center (DRC). The DRC coordinates campus disability services available to students with disabilities. It is located on the corner of Rose Street and Huguelet Drive in the Multidisciplinary Science Building, Suite 407. You can reach them via phone at 859-257-2754 and via email at drc@uky.edu.
